Summary

Start writing up the letter.

What did you plan to do?

Start on the letter.

What happened?

I provided J with some facts about how a letter should look like and what it should include.

She then started writing up the letter.

Group Response

She was struggling, as she kept asking me questions. I noticed even if I helped her she was still forgetting about what I had said sometimes, so I would have to sometimes repeat the sentence twice.

Setting Staff and Volunteer Comments

She was not very independent, as I would have liked her to be. She was not very confident in writing up the letter by herself.

Follow-up necessary

Twilight Supplementary School Diary

Finish off the letter writing, as she was asking more questions instead of just writing which meant that the letter was not finished to the standard that she is capable of doing.
